[Message]

Please ask the FDA to rescind its approval of adding antibiotics that are used in, or related to those that are used in human medicine to livestock feed. As I understand it, this is done in order to promote growth and to compensate for poor hygiene on farms. Many scientists feel that this practice compromises human health by causing the development of antibiotic resistant bacteria. Let us not put profits before people as we have done too many times in the past. Thank you.
